PREFIGURATIVE ORGANIZATION

at Red Emmas
Saturday, June 21st, 7:30 PM

For ages progressive activists have grappled with a number of nagging questions on how to bring about positive social change in the here and now while aiming for a future where working people, rather than businesses and politicians, truly and democratically run society .

On Saturday at 7:30 PM at Red Emmas (800 St. Paul St) , Kim Keyser an activist from the anarchist movement in Norway seeks to take on this complicated topic of strategy. This summer he'll be touring the US with an illustrated presentation called "The Prefigurative Organization". The presentation will try to answer the question "How can we reflect the future we want, in our present work?". It will touch upon subjects such as direct democracy, direct action, workers councils, anarchist organizing and involvement in social movements.

A complementing pamphlet called "The Prefigurative Organization" - which has been made specifically for the speaking tour - will be available. After the presentation there will be plenty of time to ask the speaker questions and engage in discussion.
